Problem Statement:

Sometimes in our life we need jobs for money or experience. We want to do jobs in more than one company for gathering experience or money. On the other hand companies need people for their minor works. So we need a connection between job seeker and job giver.

For solving this problem, our website will be very helpful.

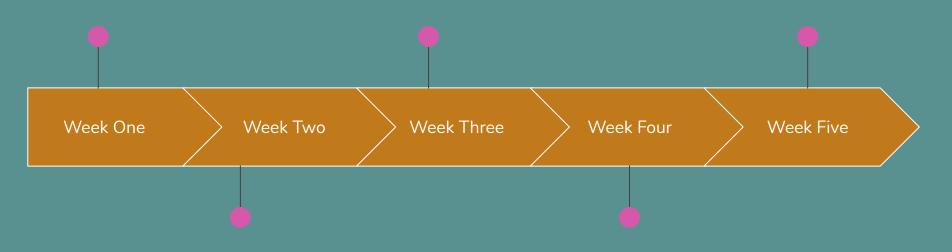

Problem Objective:

The main objective of the project is to change the manual way of operation of the job application to the automatic system. Also, this system will be a breakthrough for freelancing job market in Bangladesh.
